Purpose: The Center for 3D Hardcopy uses physical prototyping devices to create visualization hardcopies that you can hold in your hand or physically interact with other models. Having physical models of virtual data objects enhances the insight into the data.