2. At 50 MHz, the line is \( \frac{1}{4} \) long. Thus at 100 MHz it will be \( \frac{1}{2} \) long.

A \( \frac{1}{2} \) line always presents its load impedance at the far end of the line. Thus \( Z_{in} = 150 \Omega \).