Semester	Course	Random ID	Question: Additional comments
Fall 2020	MATH 213	798135656807	Professor Pham is great at explaining the why of the principles we are learning. Unfortunately this class was difficult not because of the material, but the class structure did not adequately prepare students for the exams. Lectures were never in sync with the homework so time and time again we were behind by the time a test came up, not having covered everything in class
Fall 2020	MATH 213	473950355048	Very Nice and generous professor who could be reach out outside class.
Fall 2020	MATH 213	834570858161	Professor Pham was an incredible instructor. He made sure each student understood every concept in class, and he provided plenty of resources to practice for exams. His teaching style was very enjoyable because he clearly explained how each concept related to things we had learned earlier in the class.
